33 years of experience in

Thomson, Motorola, Siemens, Dell, Samsung and LG are among our satisfied clientele

Bright LED Electronics is a professional supplier of LEDs and related products. Since our establishment in Taiwan in 1981, we have been a steadily growing force in the solid-state lighting industry. For 33 years, clients worldwide have benefited from our products and technological innovations. Our big buyers include Thomson, Motorola, Siemens, Dell, Samsung and LG.

Our production capacity is greater than nearly all of our industry competitors – we can manufacture more than 600 million units every month. So no matter how large your order is, we'll be able to accommodate your requirements.

We actively market our products under our in-house brand, Bright-LED. The success of our own label is reflected in our strong increase in sales revenue and global expansion over the past 30 years. This achievement is thanks in part to our superb products and attentive customer services. To join our growing list of satisfied customers – contact us today.
