

Zebra connectors

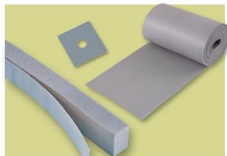

RoHS Directive-compliant elastomers and heat seal connectors

We have invested extensively to ensure that our operations are compliant with international guidelines for quality and environmental friendliness. As a result, our manufacturing practices are ISO 9001:2000- and ISO 14001:2004-certified. And, our products are phthalate-free and comply with RoHS Directive and REACH requirements.

Since 1985, we have produced heat seal and zebra connectors, as well as elastomer interconnectors using superior materials from Japan. Our 3,000m² factory in Zhongshan, mainland China puts out over 40 million units each month, which can be increased by up to 20 million units for special orders. Production lead time is just seven days. Call today for details.
