Technical support from well-trained FAEs

Sony, Hitachi, the ASUS group and other leading electronics brands source components for their top-selling electronics from us. With our 120 million-unit monthly capacity, we can finish your orders fast — in as quick as seven days. And we keep our prices competitive through economies of scale. After you receive your order, our well-trained field application engineers (FAEs) continue to provide technical support. We gladly supply samples and welcome your mixed orders.
