Clients in the US and Europe trust us with their volume orders

All products comply with BRC, EEC and REACH standards

When the biggest retail chains in the US and Europe need large volumes of disposable plastic drinkware, food containers, cutlery and dinnerware, they trust us. Our own ISO 22000:2005-certified facility, plus the support of five partner factories, enables us to turn out 60 forty-foot containers monthly.

To ensure quality, we only source FDA-compliant raw materials from our trusted long-term suppliers. We also carry out a series of stringent in-house inspections throughout the manufacturing process and provide written test reports for every order.

All of our products comply with BRC, EEC and REACH SVHC regulations, so you're assured of their safety. Plus, they are inspected by SGS. That's why top retailers such as Walmart and Tesco come to us – they can count on quality merchandise when they receive our shipments. To benefit from our production power, call us today.
