Product Description:

The OPO-930 Evolution Ortomed orthopedic head pillow is an innovative solution for comfortable sleep and maintaining the health of the cervical spine.

A special three-layer combination of materials provides optimal support and comfort.

The first, base, elastic layer maintains the shape of the pillow during sleep and holds the rollers in the desired position, providing stability and support.

The second, middle, highly elastic layer minimizes the load on the cervical and shoulder girdle, relieving tension from the muscles and joints during sleep.

The third, top layer with a "memory effect" ensures the correct position of the head and neck, creating a feeling of lightness and supporting the natural curves of the spine. Rollers of different heights adjust to the individual characteristics and preferences of each person.

The pillow helps to minimize the load on the cervical spine, improve blood circulation and stabilize the spine, which helps reduce insomnia and headaches. Material:

The pillow filler is polyurethane foam with a "memory effect", which provides long-lasting support and comfort during sleep. The surface of the pillow has a ribbed texture for maximum ventilation and comfort.

The pillowcase is made of natural Tencel® cellulose fiber, which has antibacterial properties, creates coolness and freshness, and also maintains an optimal level of skin hydration.
