

Manufacturing High-quality Portable Accessories Since 2007

Established in 2007, Shenzhen Forstar is located in Longgang, Shenzhen, China. We have more than a 12,000sqm plant house, over 200 professionally trained staff, and built up our professional R&D team, QC team, and marketing team. Over the years, we have specialized in designing and manufacturing high-quality portable DVD/VCD/CD boomboxes, portable radios, cassette recorders, mini-compo, Bluetooth speakers, and more.

Upholding to BSCI & ISO 9001:2015, CE, FCC, and RoHS Standards

After years of effort, our products have passed BSCI & ISO 9001: 2015, CE, FCC, and RoHS attestation and own the design patents. At present, our quality products have been sold to more than 30 countries such as Germany, the UK, and Japan, and enjoy a high reputation among customers from all over the world.

Excellent After-sales Service

With rich resources, professional technicians, scientific management methods, and advanced technology, In order to provide customers with more convenient and rapid before-sales and after-sales services, FORSTAR fully takes advantage of all available resources, focuses on the training of employees, and guides them through performance appraisal and training system. we can guarantee our customers of superior quality, competitive prices, and excellent after-sales service. FORSTAR always tries its best to cultivate a win-win atmosphere between the company and the customers.

Work with Us Today

Market demand for our products is in a very good trend, welcome all customers to our company to discuss cooperation, we believe that our cooperation can bring win-win prospects for both sides. Call or e-mail us now.