Metal Jewelry

make life colorful

There couldn't be fine jewelry without metals—and the variety of metals available makes jewelry affordable for just about anyone. If you're wondering what metals are best for jewelry, the best answer is—it depends.

FANCY DAY offers jewelry made with traditional metals like gold, silver, and platinum, along with modern metals like tungsten, stainless steel, titanium, and more. Here's a look at what kinds of metals are popular in jewelry and how they are used today.

For Balance - Emotional & Spiritual

Shadow and light, high and low, yin and yang, root and crown – balance is everything in life and can have a huge impact on your mental, emotional, and physical wellbeing. Being out of balance can be super jarring and can cause us to trip up and feel unsteady as we move through life. Without balance, we can feel lost or pulled in a thousand different directions and we may struggle with decision making, healthy emotional flow, and in our sense of communication and connection, both with ourselves and the wider world.

We are all made up of energy points and crystals for balance can connect with these energy points and help us to shake off any blockages or stagnant energy. From the seven chakras to our own vibrations, these ancient and precious rocks and stones can raise us up and help us to find a sweet sense of inner peace and faith in our own ability.
