>>> About us 关于我们

Established in 2012, Sarepo has developed gaming series products - including gaming mice, mechanical keyboards, gaming headsets, etc.

To let our customers the newest design and meet the right trends in the market, our design team will release 3 to 5 new models for different categories every month. For each gaming product, we have professional e-sport players providing detailed feedback, our audio products cooperate with the acoustic team based in Taiwan for sound testing and tuning.

Relying on our integrated company system, we can deliver any project from ID design, product structure, mock-up sample to mass production efficiently for OEM & ODM customers.

To ensure quality control, our factory has been certified by ISO 9001 and BSCI, strictly following their standards. What's more, our factory has also been certified by Disney FAMA. We build our laboratory for necessary testing, including electrostatics experiment, sound frequency, wire swing, switch life span test, high&low temperature, transport simulation test.

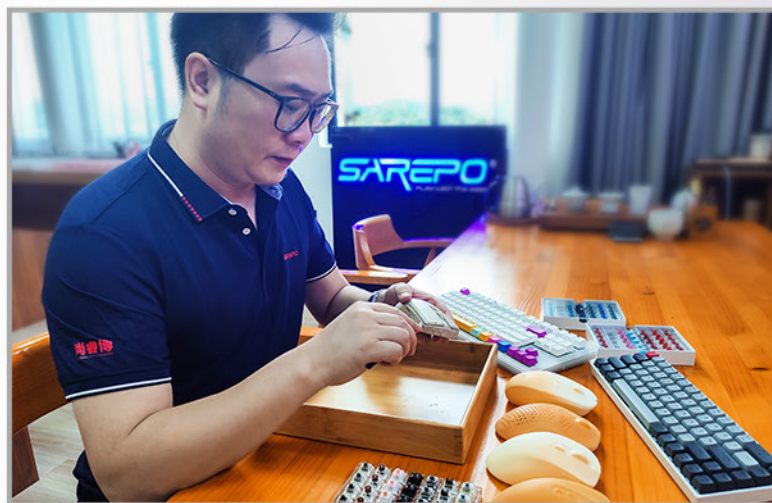

You are welcome to talk to us anytime, we will respond with our best effort and professional technical and marketing advice.

"Play with the best" is our value philosophy.

We will move forward to let your market user feel they are playing with the best product and let you know you are working with the best partner.

>>> Product development 产品研发

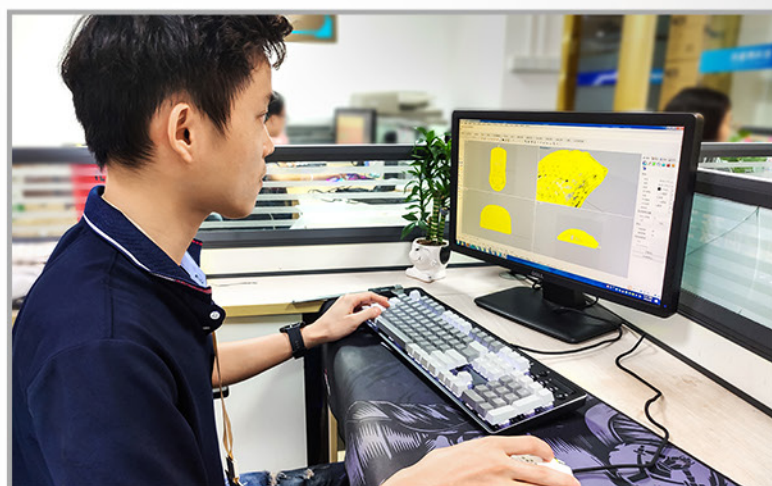

Over 12 Years In Mouse&Keyboard Field

Development is one of the most key processes at Sarepo. An enthusiastic team of 5 young developers introduces innovations to the gaming market. From the analysis of the market to sketch drawing, mockup adjusting, and testing. They provide 3-5 new original designs each month. To ensure the products we developed to be the best value for end-users, we are cooperating with 7 professional gamers in different countries to test new products, and also an acoustics professor from Taiwan University, who adjusts the sound in our premium level headsets. Based on "Design for future and be different but never lose connection with marketing demanding principle", SAREPO keeps following this philosophy.
