

Over a Dozen Self-owned Patents and 60 Authorized Partner Patents

Dongguan Qinghai Electronic Technology Co. Ltd was first established in 2002 and operates subsidiaries including Dongguan Meishi Electronics Co. Ltd, Hong Kong Xintian Electronics Co. Ltd, and U.S. Meishi Electronics Co. Ltd. With a history of almost two decades, we boast long-term and stable technical and management teams, who have earned more than a dozen self-developed patents and nearly 60 authorized patents from partners. We can provide design options that truly satisfy customers, from materials to structures and practical applications, with our product range including mining, gaming, and wire harness products.

ISO 9001 and SGS Certifications

Our 1,000-level purification workshop is equipped with many different types of automation and special equipment that are not available on the market and employs more than 100 staff to develop products that are exported to dozens of countries around the world. All products have passed international EU standards and SGS testing, and meet the standards outlined in our ISO 9001:2015 certification.

Enquire now

Our products are mainly exported to customers in Asia and North America, with OEM and ODM services available upon request. Contact us today.